

IAC Special Opportunity for Faculty Development Activities 2021

SODA-A Curriculum Development

Amanda Weiss

School of Modern Languages

Hivemind Volume 2: Japan and/as the Future

Tibor Besedes

School of Economics

Rethinking Principles of Economics Courses

Katja Weber

Sam Nunn School of International Affairs

International Relations Theory Online Course

SODA-B Research Activity

Brian An

School of Public Policy

Acquiring National Establishment Time-Series Database for 2.6 million business establishments' longitudinal records in Georgia

Lindsey Bullinger

School of Public Policy

Housing Insecurity and Child Well-Being: A National Analysis

Douglas Flamming

School of History and Sociology

The Shrimp Industry Boom in the South, 1945-1970

Allen Hyde

School of History and Sociology

Co-creating Data for Disaster Resilience with Historically Marginalized Communities in Savannah

Hyoun-A Joo

School of Modern Languages

Developing a DCT to investigate the life and language of German immigrants in the Southeast

Jennifer Jordan

Sam Nunn School of International Affairs

Killing for the Bomb: Targeting Killing and the Assassination of Enemy Nuclear Scientists

Aaron Levine

School of Public Policy

The Almighty Egg: Ethics, Economics, and the Scientific Race to Control Human Reproduction

Usha Nair-Reichert

School of Economics

Trade Competition, Trade Networks and Innovative Activities of Indian Firms

Annika Orich

School of Modern Languages

Can the IVF lab of the future be a feminist space?

Amit Prasad

School of History and Sociology

A Multi-Disciplinary Study of Social Patterns of COVID-19 Misinformation

Jennifer Singh

School of History and Sociology

The “blessing and curse” of COVID-19 for Black families of children with

Qi Wang

School of Literature, Media, and Communication

Manuscript: Poetics of Space in East Asian Cinema

SODA-C Research DisseminationRachel Whitlark

Sam Nunn School of International Affairs

"All Options on the Table" Indexing